Policy Title: Continuing Education Policy

Policy & Procedure Statement:

ICOM recognizes the necessity of Continuing Medical Education (CME) and Professional Development (PD) for medical and non-medical faculty from intellectual and licensing perspectives. All faculty members are expected to utilize scientifically reliable and professionally recognized sources of CME and PD. Faculty members may utilize peer-reviewed, professional CME and PD from a variety of media, including print, internet, CD/DVD, lectures, and meetings. Faculty should keep a record of CME and PD in print or digital formats and submit this record to their medical licensing boards and or specialty organizations upon request. Faculty members should be wary of CME and PD that is potentially biased by financial and other influences. Faculty members are encouraged to create and lead CME and PD programs for their own professional development, as well as the education of other ICOM and Idaho College of Osteopathic Medicine faculty, local and regional health care professionals, and distant professionals who would benefit from the expertise of ICOM faculty.
